

This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

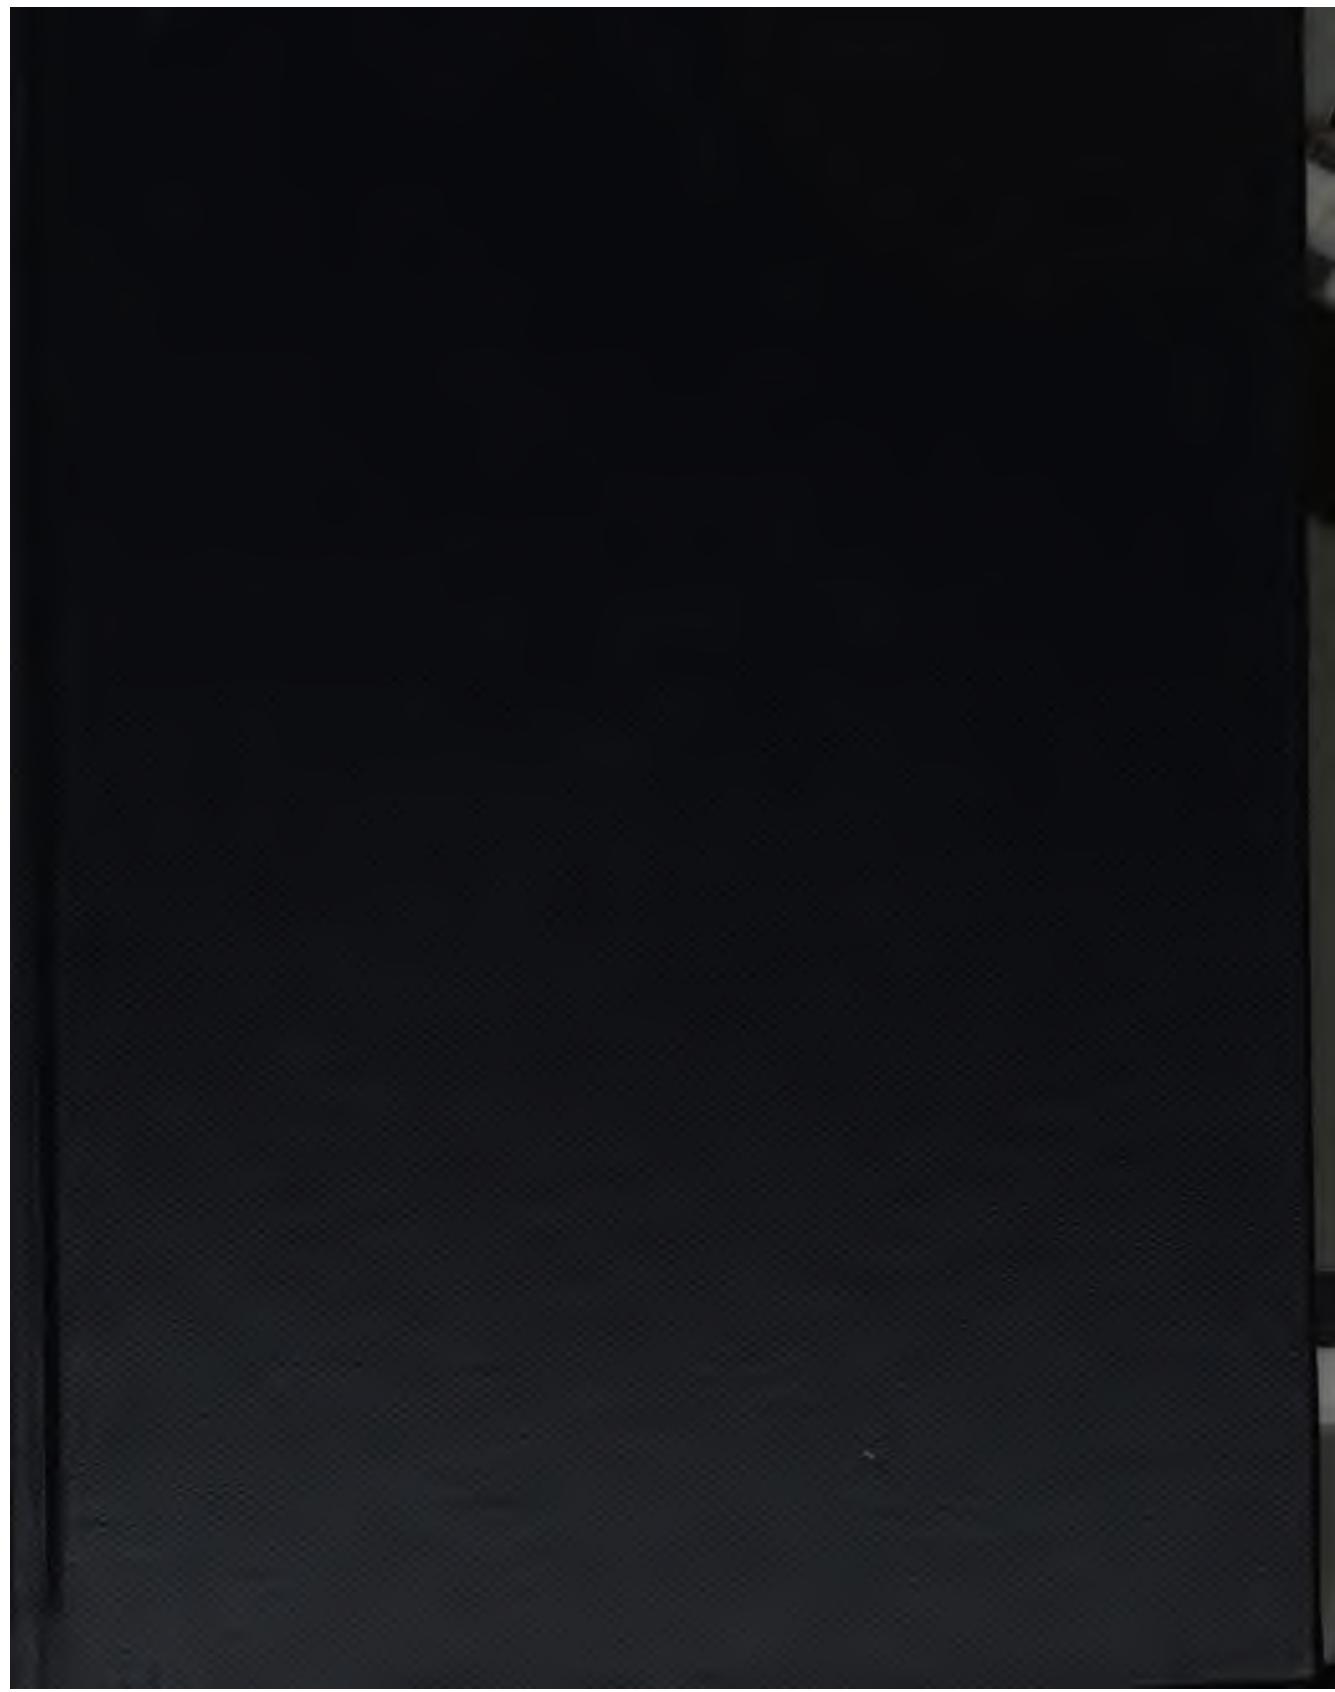

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

- + Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.
- + Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.
- + Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
- + Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

About Google Book Search

Google's mission is to organize the world's information and to make it universally accessible and useful. Google Book Search helps readers discover the world's books while helping authors and publishers reach new audiences. TITULUS 19 DE PRIMA PARTE DE BILYNGTON.*

I. De inquisitione capta coram escaetorem de medietate manerij de Bilyngton super breui Regis ad quod dampnum et retornata ad Cancellariam.

IN Q U I S I T I O capta apud Cliderhou in comitatu Lancastrie die Jouis in festo exaltationis sancte crucis anno regni Regis Edw. filij regis Edw. xij. coram Rob. de Sapy escaetorem dñi Regis ultra Trent, p magistrum Henr. de Dounom, Ad. del Clogh, Willmum de Herrice, Henr. Moton, Ricardum filium Henrici de Cliderhou, Ricardum de Bradelegh, Johannem del Holt, Johannem filium Elie de Reued, Henr. de Henthorne, Hugonem de Clayton, et Johannem filium Ricardi filij Roberti de Cliderdou, iuratores, qui dicunt super sacramentum suum quod non est ad dampnum nec preiudicium dñi Regis nec aliorum, si dñus Rex concedat dilecto consanguineo suo Thome comiti Lancastrie quod ipse concedere possit quod medietas manerij de Bilyngton cum pertinentijs quam Ad. de Hodleston tenet ad terminum vite sue de hereditate predicti Comitis, post mortem eiusdem Ade remaneat dilectis sibi in Cristo Abbati et conuentui de Whalleye. Habend. et tenend. eisdem Abbati et conuentui et successorib; suis imppetuum. Et dicunt quod idem Adam tenuit predictam medietatem ex dono Henrici de Lascy, comitis Lincoln, ad terminum vite sue pro bono seruicio suo, et nihil reddit p annum. Et dicunt quod idem comes Lincoln tenuit predictam medietatem de predicto Comite Lancastrie p seruicium sexagesime partis feodi unius militis. Et idem comes Lancastrie tenet predictam medietatem de dño rege in capite p idem seruicium. Et dicunt quod predicta medietas valet p annum in omnib; iuxta verum valorem lxvj. solid. et viij. denar. p annum. Et dicunt quod non est medius inter dñum Regem et predictum comitem Lancastrie de medietate predicta. In cuius rei testimonium huic inquisitioni sigilla juratorum sunt appensa.

* The township of Billington is situated on the opposite side of the river Calder to the abbey ; and its proximity, as well as its value, rendered it a most desirable acquisition. The title is truly stated to be extremely perplexed. One moiety of the manor had been granted for life to Adam de Hudleston by Henry de Lacy, and the reversion was conveyed by their firm friend, Thomas earl of Lancaster, to the abbey. The other moiety had evidently been granted to a local family ; one of whom, Adam de Billington, conveyed it to Adam de Hudleston, who conveyed it to Geoffrey le Scrope, and he gained the proud title " amici specialis huius domus" by his grant to the abbey of Whalley.

This must be added to the list of benefactions to that abbey after its translation from Stanlawe, which was unnoticed by the Editor in the preface.

II. Carta domini Regis de licentia ingrediendi predictam medietatem.

VI. Scriptum domini Ade de Hudleston de attornatione facta nobis de medietate manerij de Bilyngton.

DNIUERSIS ad quos presentes literæ puenerint Adam de Hudleston* miles salutem in dñō. Noueritis quod cum dñus Thomas comes Lanc. p cartam suam concessit religiosis viris Abbati et conuentui Loci Benedicti de Whalley illam medietatem manerij de Bilyngton cum ptinentijs quam teneo de dicto dñō comite ad terminum vite mee. Tenend. post deceasum meum dictis Abbati et conuentui et eorum successorib; in liberam puram et ppetuam elemosinam prout in carta dicti dñi comitis ac in literis patentib; dñi Regis de licentia ipsius dñi Regis plenius continetur. Ego dictus Adam p literas dicti dñi comitis de assignatione attornau me dictis dñis Abbati et conuentui de fidelitate mea et de omnib; seruicijs que dicto dñō comiti facere consueui p illa medietate

* This Sir Adam de Hudleston was most probably brother to that Sir John de Hudleston who accompanied Henry de Lacy to the siege of Carlaverock, and is thus spoken of by the chronicle of that achievement:

Gahan v' Ouelston endement
Bi bien e adessment
Wa darmes toutes les saisons
Au counte estoite si est raisons
Bi nomen soit entre sa gent
Rouge portoil frette d'argent

Also John of Hodleston, who at all times appears well and promptly in arms. He was with the Count, which makes it proper that he should be named among his followers. He bore gules fretty with silver.

Adam de Hudleston married, first, Johanna, and secondly, Isabel, who survived him, and was termed "domina de Godested ;" but he left no issue by either of his wives, and was succeeded by his nephew, Richard, the son of his brother John. Richard married Alicia, and was succeeded by his son, John de Hudleston, who was living 18 Edward III.

There is great probability that the "good service" mentioned as the consideration for the grant of the moiety of the manor of Billington, was rendered at the same siege, and that Sir Adam has, like other brave men, suffered "caret quis vate sacro."

dicti manerij. Et ut de attornamento fidelitatis et seruiciorum meorum ppetua habeatur memoria presentib; sigillum meum duxi apponendum. Dat. apud Bilyngton die mercurij pximo post

Explicit de prima parte de Bilyngton.

Incipit de secunda parte de Bilyngton quam habuimus de dono Galfridi le Scrop* quondam principalis Justiciarij Anglie, et amici specialis domus huius, cuius anime miseretur Deus p sua ineffabili pietate.

* Geoffrey le Scrope, of whom such honourable mention is here made, was the second son of Sir William le Scrope of Bolton, who was living 24 Edward I., and left three sons, Henry, Geoffrey, and Stephen le Scrope, clerk.

The two eldest applied themselves to the study of the law. Sir Henry was made a judge of K. B., 2 Edward II., and chief justice, 10 Edward II. He was appointed an executor of the will of Henry de Lasey, earl of Lincoln, and died 10 Edward III., being then chief baron of the exchequer. His posterity were Scropes of Bolton.

The second son, Sir Geoffrey le Scrope, rose to the same dignity as his brother, for he was nominated chief justice of the king's bench, 17 Edward II. But he was equally celebrated in the field; and at a tournament in Northampton, temp. Edward II., "le dit Mons. Geffray Lescrop auoit graunt pris et portoit graund noun pur son fait a cet tornament." The date of this tournament is not given, and it possibly may have been previous to his elevation to the bench. Sir Geoffrey purchased Masham in the county of York, and marrying Ivetta, who "according to the best authorities," was the daughter of Sir William Roos of Ingmanthorp, became the ancestor of the Scropes of Masham.

He had several children, Henry, Thomas, William, Stephen, and Geoffrey, Beatrice, Constance, and Ivetta. Sir Geoffrey died A.D. 1340.

It is almost unnecessary to mention that the preceding note has been drawn from the admirable but, alas, the incomplete roll of Scrope and Grosvenor, edited by Sir H. Nicolas.

OMNIBUS Cristi fidelibus ad quos presens scriptum puererit Agnes que fuit uxor Rogeri de Bilyngton salutem in dño. Noueritis me concessisse dimisisse et omnino quietuclamassee dño Ade de Hudleston et heredibus suis omne ius et clameum quod habui vel habere potui versus illas terras quas idem dñus Adam tenet in Bilyngton. Ita videlicet quod nec ego predicta Agnes nec heredes mei nec aliquis alias iure nostro aliquod ius vel clameum in predictis terris nec in earum aliqua parte de cetero exigere vel habere valeamus. In cuius rei testimonium huic presenti scripto sigillum meum apposui. Hijs testibus, Bernardo del Hakkyng, Henr. de Bradehull, Rogero de le Dewyhurst, Henr. fratre suo, et multis alijs.

Mem. quod dñus Ad. de Hudleston, plenarie seisitus de manerio et medietate ville de Bilyngton, ut superius est expressum, dedit medietatem ville de Bilyngton Willmo de Holand,* qui refeoffauit dictum dñum Ad. de medietate predicta, ut

* Robert de Holand, the first on record of this illustrious family, had three sons,
1. Thurstan de Holand, who succeeded.

2. Adam de Holand, lived 37 and 40 Henry III., and had a son, Robert de Holand, who married Alicia, daughter and heiress of Grim-bald de Ellale.

3. Matthew de Holand, who married Ameria.

Thurstan de Holand lived A.D. 1272, (ante, p. 585,) and had a son, Robert de Holand, living 10 and 31 Edward I., (ante, pp. 116, 970.) By inquisition ad quod damnum, taken on the Monday after the feast of St. Matthew 35 Edward I., it was directed to inquire, si sit ad dampnum d'ni regis si concedat d'no Rob. de Holand quod ipse duo mesuagia et tres carucatas terre in Holand et Orel dare possit et assignare duobus capellaniis in capella ipsius Roberti apud Holand diuina pro anima ipsius Roberti et animabus antecessorum suorum singulis diebus celebraturis. He married Elizabeth, apparet p cartam inde factam, sed quia put ab aliquibz dicebatur idem Willmus non fuit plene etatis quando receivit prefatum dñum Ad. de Hudleston de medietate predicta, dñus Rob. de Holand senior frater dicti Willmi et heres eius implicauit eundem Ad. in curia dñi Regis de daughter and coheir of William de Samblesbury (pp. 116, 122) and had four children,

1. Robert de Holand, who succeeded, (p. 970.)
2. William de Holand, supposed to be a minor 30 Edward I., who married Johanna, and ob. s.p. By inquisition post mortem on the death of his widow, who had married William de Multon, it was found that she had dower of lands quondam Wilhni de Holand quondam viri ipsius Johanne, in Haydok, Barton iuxta Mamchester, Swynton iuxta le Illope, Heton iuxta Fayrefield, ex assignatione Roberti de Holand fratris predicti Willmi cuius heres ipse est, &c.
3. Johanna, who married : 1. Edward Talbot of Bashall.
2. Hugh de Dutton.
3. John de Radcliffe of Ordsall.
4. Margery, who married John de Blakeburn.

Robert de Holand, living 1316, (p. 530,) succeeded, and married Matilda, daughter and coheiress of Alan, lord de Zuche, and had four children,

1. Sir Robert de Holand.
2. Thomas Holand, earl of Kent, jure uxoris Joane Plantagenet, "the fair maid of Kent," only daughter of Edmund earl of Kent, the second son of Edward I. By her, who married secondly Edward "the Black Prince," and became the mother of Richard II., he had three sons and a daughter,
Thomas, earl of Kent.
Edmund.
John, created earl of Huntingdon and duke of Exeter.
Maude, married Hugh, son of Hugh Courtenay, earl of Devon.
3. Alan Holand.
4. Otho Holand, one of the founders of the order of the Garter, levied a fine, 1359, TT. 33 Edward III., of the manor of Yoxhall in Staffordshire to himself for life, remainder to his brother Robert de Holand the elder and Robert de Holand the younger and their heirs. He died 3d September, 1357, s.p.

Robert de Holand was summoned to parliament 8 Edward II., and involving himself in the insurrection of his patron, Thomas earl of Lan-mediatae predicta et eadem recuperauit. Post recuperationem vero dicte mediatae idem dñus Rob. de Holand concessit predicto dño Ade de Hudleston dictam mediataem ad terminum vite sue, ut p indenturam inde factam inter eosdem euidenter poterit apparere.

De qua etiam mediata ville de Bilyngton et manorio de Cho prefatus dñus Rob. de Holand fecit quietaclamacionem dño Galfrido de Scrop, ut inferius patebit.

caster, was beheaded near Henley on the Thames, A.D. 1328. He was succeeded by his eldest son, Robert de Holand, the second baron, who was summoned to parliament from 1342 to October, 1372. He had two sons,

1. Robert, ob. vita patris, and left a daughter,
Matilda, who married Sir John Lovel.

2. John de Holand, found heir male to his father.

De quarrelo in Symondeston.

* Dr. Whitaker says of this township, "The earliest notice I have met with of this township is contained in a charter of John de Lacy, Constable of Chester, (who died in 1240,) in which he grants a fifth part of the vill of Symondstone to John del Thelewell, sans date. Afterwards, but still without date, William de Heye conveys the manor of Symondstone to Nicholas de Holden. How long the Holdens remained in possession of this manor I know not, saving that I find them here in 1361. This township, like most others in the parish, gave name to a family, who, though never possessed of the manor, had the principal property in it, and whose descendants (the Starkies) through an heir female, still reside in great opulence upon their domain. Of these I meet with Geoffrey de Symondstone, Elias de Symondstone, John de Symondstone, all living in 1311, as per inquisition." This extract may serve to explain the grant. The quarries were in the possession of John de Symondeston, and the lord licensed the getting and removal of the stone.

* Dr. Whitaker says, "The number of persons, apparently contemporary, who used the local name of Read during the period of our earliest charters, proves the township to have been divided into many small and independent properties. For the same reason I strongly suspect the manor never to have been granted out in form, but to have arisen out of connivance and usurpation, when the principal property became concentered in the family de Clogh; as the first mention of such a circumstance is contained in a charter dated 1342, in which John, son of Adam de Clogh, grants to John de Topcliffe, vicar of Whalley, and Adam de Gristwayth, vicar of Blackburn, (who, in their day, were uniformly trustees for the Abbey,) the tenth part of the manor of Reved."

* "Moreover," says Dr. Whitaker, citing the Status de Blackburnshire, "Geoffrey, dean of Whalley, granted to one Elias his servant all his demesne lands lying on the east side of the way to Wiswall apud Revecht. He is said also to have given to one Lucas Citharista seven and a half acres in Revecht; both these grants were resumed by Peter de Cestria.

"I have little doubt but that this Lucas and Elias were the same person, and that either the original charter from which Abbot Lindlay, the excellent compiler of this compendium, transcribed, was become obscure, or that injustice had been done to him by some later copier; for, in the charters which I have consulted, a person is expressly referred to called Elias Citharista de Reved, also Elias de Stanlaw, and lastly Elias de Reued; and the probability is that this man was a minstrel sent by the Abbey of Stanlaw for the amusement of Dean Geoffrey, who rewarded him in this liberal manner for his powers of entertainment. But he made other acquisitions here, for by charter sans date Alex. de Reved, John, son of Simon de Reved, and Alex. son of Alan of the same, grant to Elias Citharista all their lands in Reved. These last, I apprehend, were the demesnes of Read Hall; for the lands granted by Dean Geoffrey were resumed by Peter de Cestria; and, by a subsequent charter, Adam, son of Elias de Stanlaw, grants to Adam del Clogh and Alice his wife all his tenements in Reved. Adam del Clogh had Richard, who had John, whose daughter and heiress, Johanna, married Sir Richard de Greenacres, who, in 37 Edward III., gave a moiety of the manor of Read to Lawrence Nowell, in exchange for the manor of Great Mearley.

"Such was the settlement at Read of a very flourishing family, who continued in possession of the seat which they had thus acquired for the period of 409 years."

Most probably, however, the act of resumption is not attributable to Peter de Cestria, as it will be seen hereafter that he confirmed some of the grants to Luke Cytharista, and that they were recovered by the Abbey temp. Edw. III. by a writ of juris utrum.

Memorandum quod dñus Johannes de Blakeburn miles, dñus ville de Wysewall, habuit quendam filium, nomine Adam militem, qui ei successit iure hereditario in eadem. Iste Adam habuit quendam filium et heredem suum nomine Johannem, qui desponsauit Margaretam sororem dñi Roberti de Holand, de qua genuit tres filias, videlicet Alicia, Agnetem, et Johannam. Inter quas post mortem dicti Johannisi patris sui manerium de Wysewall et alie terre et tenementa que habuit in alijs locis diuisa fuerunt. Alicia vero primogenita earum desponsata fuit dño Roberto de Schireburne, que* per pmutationem factam cum Agnete sorore sua de alijs tenementis habuit duas partes manerij de Wysewall. De Johanna vero tertia sorore genitus fuit dñus Thomas de Arderne miles heres dicte Johanne matris sue, qui tertiam partem dicti manerij de Wysewall p aliquantum

* When this was made does not clearly appear; for Dr. Whitaker states that "by the inquisition of 1311, after the death of the last Lacy, Earl of Lincoln, it was found that Robert de Sherburne, Dom. Henr. de Lee, and Thomas de Ardern, held two carucates of land in Wiswall by the fourth part of a knight's fee for the render of 1s. 4d. Again, by inquisition after the death of Henry, Duke of Lancaster, 35 Edw. III., it was found that the abbot of Whalley, Richard Sherburne, and Gilbert de la Legh, held the fourth part of a knight's fee in Wiswall and Hapton for the render of xxv*."

The pedigree of the Blackburnes of Wiswall is accurately stated in the text.

John de Blackburn, dominus de Wysewall, had a son,

Adam de Blackburn, married Alice, (p. 1088, infra.) His son,

John de Blackburn, married Margery de Holland, p. 978, and had three daughters,

Alice married Robert de Schireburn, p. 681.

Agnes.

Joan married Thomas de Ardern, and had a son,

Thomas de Ardern.

* These are the names of streets in Clitheroe; but Malueysgate is not known. The nearest approach to the name is found in an ancient borough house, known as "Malhams," but that was situate in Wellegate. There was another free borough house, named Standens, or Bawdwens, which possibly may be identified with some of the preceding grants. Oldfield is still known as Oldhall, and is situate below the Castle gate. Crosshill is situate to the north-east of Clitheroe.

* Sir William Harrington of Hornby Castle, K.G., standard bearer at the battle of Agincourt, died 17 Henry VI., having married Margaret, daughter of Sir Robert Neville of Hornby Castle, Knt., and coheiress of her niece, Margaret, Duchess of Exeter. She was living 21 Henry VI. These three Harringtons were probably sons of Sir William Harrington, although the first named in this bond, Sir Robert, is omitted in the pedigree, and Sir Thomas is there styled the eldest son and heir. He was slain at the battle of Wakefield in 1460. His brother, John Harrington Esq. of Doncaster, in the county of York, died in 1465, and was buried in a chantry which he had founded there. For further interesting particulars of the family, see Whitaker's History of Richmond, vol. ii.

Conditio istius obligationis talis est quod si Abbas et conuentus superius obligati aut successores sui siue eorum certus attornatus siue deputatus soluant seu solui faciant aut aliquis eorum soluat seu solui faciat Margarete Roberto Thome et Johanni superius nominatis, vel executorib; illius eorum quam diutius vixerit, vel administratori bonorum illius eorum quam diutius vixerit, seu alicui eorum, siue eorum seu alicuius eorum certo attornato siue deputato, apud Lancastr. quatuor marcas ad festum Pasche prox. post mortem Willmi de Harington superius nominati vel infra viginti dies tunc prox. sequentes, et quatuor marcas ad festum sancti Michaelis Archangeli tunc px. sequens, vel infra viginti dies tunc prox. sequentes, et sic de anno in annum ad quodlibet festum predictum vel infra viginti dies px. sequentes post quodlibet eorundem festorum quatuor marcas, durante vita Willmi Neuyll capellani vel quoisque idem Willmus ad aliquod beneficium ecclesiasticum pmoueatur, vel quoisque quadringente marce sterlingorum prefatis Margarete Roberto Thome et Johanni vel executorib; siue administratorib; predictis in vita predicti Willmi Neuyll psoluantur. * "This is a good specimen of English economics four hundred and fifty years ago ; but the provisions vary exceedingly, both in kind and proportion, from what would be allowed in the foundation of a modern almshouse. Bread and beer seem to have been intended for the principal support of these recluses. Even oatmeal pottage, the wholesome food of our Lancashire peasantry, of which we have here the first mention, must have been a rarity, as one bushel per annum would not have been a meal per day. Peat was the principal fuel, with a little wood ; no fossil coal ; a very small provision of oil for lamps ; and of tallow, little or none. Hence I conclude, that the recluses must have been intended to keep very early hours at night."—Whitaker, p. 73.

In "the rewle of a recluse that Seynt Alrede wrote to his suster," translated in the fifteenth century, the mode of living of the recluse is laid down. Eating what—"with so many of potage of wortes, (cabbage,) or of peses or of benys, or elles of formage, meddled with mylke or with oyle to put away or avoyde the bitterness, and with o kynde of ffyshe with apples or with herbes. And upon the Wednesday, Friday, and Saturday to use but Lent metes. In Lent one maner of potage every day, but sicknesse it make. Every Friday brede and water."—Fosbrooks. Ascetic as the Cistoricians were, their mode of living was more liberal than this. It might have startled St. Alfred had he heard of the weekly supply of conventual ale provided for the recluses by this grant.

The succeeding document is a literal copy of the survey of the Abbey possessions, furnished by Sir Charles G. Young, Garter, from the fifth volume of Dr. Kuerden's MSS. relating to the County of Lancaster, preserved in the library of the College of Arms, and referred to in the Editor's preface. It appears to have been taken soon after the dissolution of the Abbey.

The following Inventory of the goods and chattels found at Whalley at the dissolution of the Abbey, is taken from the MS. at the Chetham Library. And though it appears to have been overlooked by Dr. Whitaker, yet he has published a similar inventory taken A.D. 1536, which illustrates so many items in the English Inventory, that it is also inserted as foot notes (marked W.) to the text.

THE ORIGINAL INVENTORY OF WHALLEY ABBEY TAKEN BY THE COMMISSIONERS UNDER THE ACT OF PARLIAMENT FOR THE DISSOLUTION OF MONASTERIES; TRANSCRIBED BY MR. R. T. HAMPSON, AND EXTRACTED FROM A VOLUME OF HIS MS. HISTORICAL COLLECTIONS IN THE LIBRARY OF CHETHAM COLLEGE, MANCHESTER, NO. 22.

Note of the Transcriber.

"I am informed by J. W. Clarke Esq^{re} of the Record Office, Chapter House, Westminster, that when Dr. Whitaker explored the office for materials for his History of Whalley, this very curious document was not discovered. R. H."

(^d) The balas, or belays, was a kind of ruby.—Halliwell. The other precious stones may easily be discovered. In Dr. Whitaker's list this mitre is thus mentioned: Item una mitra ornat. cum lapid. vij. perls super argent. Pope Clement IV. had ordered that the Abbot's mitre should be embroidered with gold only, to distinguish it from the Bishop's, who might wear precious stones.—Fosroke, Monach. But this mitre was set with precious stones as evil (heavy) as could be.

(^e) This should no doubt be gloves. The gloves of ecclesiastics used often, I think, to have embroidery and other enrichment on the back. This is a rose of embroidery and precious stones.

(^f) A rich species of stuff, said to have been composed of silk interwoven with threads of gold in a most sumptuous manner.—Halliwell.

Glossary.

ACQ

- ACQUIETARE, quietum reddere, to acquit, to hold free.
ACTOR, the proctor or advocate in civil courts.
ADJECTIO, an addition.
ADNIHILO, to annul.
AD QUOD DAMNUM, where a man will give lands in mortmain, then he ought to have the king's licence, and the licence of the chief lords, to make such gift; and the course is to sue unto the king to have a licence to sue that writ out of chancery directed unto the escheator to inquire what damage it would be to the king or unto other persons, if the king do grant such licence.
ADVOCATIO, the right of presentation to a benefice, an advowson.
AFFORESTARE, to turn lands into forest.
AGISTIAMENTUM, the pasturage of cattle, generally of others, also the profit thence arising.
AGITATIO ANIMALIUM IN FORESTA, the drift of beasts in the forest.
AISIAMENTUM, any liberty of passage, way, or watercourse, &c.
ALTARAGIUM. Most probably at first it included only voluntary oblations, but afterwards extended to small tithes.
AMERICIAMENTUM, a penalty assessed by the peers of the party amerced.

ASS

- ANNALES, young cattle of the first year.
ANNUALE, a yearly rent or income.
ANTISTITIUM, a monastery.
APPROPRIATIO, the annexing of a benefice to a religious house or spiritual corporation.
ARMIGER, a person of rank residing within the abbey, who attended the abbot. Ducange, in voce, says, Quinquagenarius habet clericum seu garcionem servitio specialiter attendantem, qui exhibitionem victualium recipiet de parte abbatis modo et mensura, quibus ministratus garcionis unius armigeri in abbatis aula. In Fynchale priory A.D. 1307, there were, duo runcini pro armigeris in stabulo prioris: A.D. 1317 there was, unus pullanus pro armigeris. I have discovered no certain trace in the abbey computus of the expenses under this head—sed vide p. 1152 ante.
ASSARTUM. “Verely when that the pleasant woods of the forest or thick bushie places meet for the secret feeding of the wilde beasts be cut downe and plucked up by the rootes, and the same ground made a plaine and turned into arable land, this by the lawe of the forest is properly said to be an assart of the forest or land assarted.”
— Manwood.

ASS

ASSISA. Apud Anglos, Ducange says, vero assisa definitus sessio justiciariorum duorum itinerantium cum justiciarijs pacis, ut vocantur, in urbe capitali uniuscuiusq. comitatus bis in anno et audiant placitalites componant, et pro tribunali jus dicant. In early times, many questions of fact relating to property were tried by twelve liberos et legales homines juratos, sworn to speak the truth. This tribunal was in some cases called Assisa, from assidere; though it is probable that it was emphatically so called from assisa, as laws were formerly called, by which the application of this trial was ordained. — Reeves.

ASSISÆ REDDITUS, rents of land set for a certain equivalent.

AUCENTICUS, the original, when applied to a charter or other document.

AUXILIUM, originally a mere benevolence granted by the tenant to his lord in times of difficulty and distress — auxilia fiunt de gratia et non de jure. But they soon became a right, and were claimed to ransom the lord, to make his eldest son a knight, and to portion his daughter. On the two last occasions it was fixed by the statute Westm. that the tenant who had lands of the yearly value of £20, holden in socage, should pay 20s. to the lord.

AUXILIUM AD MIL. AD PARL. MITTEND. p. 923. The writ de expensis militum commanded the sheriffs to levy four shillings per diem for knights of the shire; and two shillings per diem for burgesses and citizens. The writ was in the following form: Johannes Shoredich unus militum comitatus Middlesex venientium ad parliamentum tent' apud Westm' in Cro animarum ultim' præterit' habet allocationem 4li. et 4s. pro 21 diebus pro expensis suis veniendo ad parliamentum predict. ibid. morando et exinde ad propria redeundo capiendo per diem 4s. Teste rege apud Westm' 24 die Novembr anno 46. Such was the simplicity of our ancestors!

AVERIA, cattle, whether oxen or horses.

AVES WARENÆ, pheasant and partridge.

BATETORIA, a fulling mill.

BERCARIUM, a tan house, but more properly a sheep walk.

BESTIÆ CHACEÆ, the buck, doe, fox, martron, and roe. — Manwood.

BESTIÆ FORESTÆ ET VENERIS, the hart, the hynde, hare, boare, and the wolfe; by hart every male animal of the stagge kind is to be understood. — Manwood.

BESTIÆ WARENÆ, the hare and conie.

BIDENS, sheep of the second year.

BIGA, a cart or wagon.

BIKA or BICHA, cerva, (fr. biche).

BISANTIUM AUBI, equal to a ducat.

BISANTIUM ARGENTI, equal to two shillings.

BISSA, (fr. biche,) a hind.

BOSCAGIUM, food for cattle from trees; quietum de boscagio, free from duty of windfall wood. — Manwood.

Boscus, doth not only include the trees, but the land also whereupon they grow.

BOV

BOVATA TERRÆ, as much land as an ox can plough in a year; therefore the quantity uncertain. Bovata continet 13 acres. In veteris statut. ad compositionem mensurarum apud Spelmannum, bovata continet 18 acres.—Ducange. In the Finchale chartulary: In duabus bovatis terræ in villa de S. continentibus sexaginta acreæ terræ. But Dr. Whitaker asserts that the bovate averaged sixteen acres; most probably it fluctuated between the two extremes of eighteen and eleven acres.

BRUERA. By this the soil where heath doth grow passeth.—Co. Litt.

CALCRA, a causeway or common hard way.

CALEFAGIUM, a right to take fuel.

CANTARIA, chantry, a chapel endowed for the maintenance of a priest to sing masses for the souls of the donors. Vide p. 54.

CARBO MARITIMUS, sea coal.

CARECTA, or CARRETA, a cart, or cart load.

CARUCA, a plough.

CARUCATA, a plough land, as much land as can be cultivated with one plough.

CAUDA TERRA, the bottom of a ridge in arable land.

CHACEA. A chace differs from a forest in this, that it has no officers nor court as a forest has, neither is it governed by the forest laws, but only by the common laws; but the liberty of a frank chace is next in degree to a forest. It differs from a park, as a chace is always open and not inclosed, while a park is inclosed.

CON

CHEVAGIUM, a tribute paid by such as held lands in villenage of their lords; a description of chief or headmoney.

CHIMINAGIUM, a toll for having a way through a forest.

CHOHA, sive CHOCHA, a stake for a mere or landmark.

CITATIO, the first step in an ecclesiastical cause.

CLAMEUM, a challenge of interest in anything that is in another's possession.

CLASTRUM, seu CLOTUM MOLENDINI, the mill race or floodgate.

CLAUSTURA, brushwood for hedges and fences.

COMMUNIA, sive COMMUNA, common.

COMMUNICO—ARE, to common.

CONCEDERE ET DARE, may amount to a grant, feoffment, gift, lease, release, confirmation, or surrender, at the election of the party to whom used.

CONFIRMARE, to convey an estate or right in esse, whereby a voidable estate is made sure and unavoidable, or whereby a particular estate is enlarged.

CONFIRMATIO, the strengthening of an estate not void, but voidable only.

CONVERSUS, a person who had not been trained up from his youth in a religious order, but who embraced it at a later period of life—used for lay brothers. The Cistercians had a dislike to the name. Ordinat et definit capitulum generale quod conversi nostri ordinis in provinciis et Wescomia et ultra non conversi sed fratres nominentur eo quod nomen illud in dictis provincijs abominabile habeatur propter hereticam pravitatem.

COO

COOPERTIO ARBORUM, the bark and branches of fallen wood.
COOPERTURA, the roof of a house, a thicket or covert of wood.
CORODIUM, in general a sum of money or sustentation due to the king from an abbey, &c., but it may be due to a subject from an abbey.
CULTURA, arable land.
CYMINUM, cummin.

DAMNUM, damage, loss.
DARE, vide ante in voce Concedere.
DEAFFORESTABI, discharged from the forest laws. Ante, p. 11.
DEFENDERE, binds the donor and his heirs to defend the donee if any one attempt to lay an incumbrance on the thing given, other than as contained in the deed of donation.
DEFENSA, a park or place fenced in (defended) for deer.
DEFENSUM, "a period of the year provided for the quiet and safetie of the wild beasts during the time of their fawning, which is called the fence moneth or tempus vetitum. By the charta de foresta the fence moneth doth alwaies begin 15 dayes before the feast of S. John the Baptist, and it doth end 15 days after, which is upon Seint Cyril's day. During this time neither man nor swine, sheep nor goats, were permitted in the forest for feare of troubling or disquieting of the wild beasts in time of their fawning." — Manwood.
DEFORESTATIO, see ante, voce Deforestari.
DESICUT, sicut, velut.
DIEM CLAUSIT EXTREMUM. It properly lieth when the king's tenant who holdeth of him in capite by knights service or in socage dieth seised, this writ issues to enquire what lands he died seised of, for upon that when the heir cometh of full age he ought for to sue livery of his lands out of the king's hands, and then he shall have a writ directed to the escheator de estate probanda before he shall have livery.

FAL

DOMINICUM, the lord's chief manor place and the lands thereto belonging, or the demesne.

DOMINUS, generally used for the lord of the manor.

ELEMOSYNA, frankalmoign; when in puram et perpetuam elemosynam, the donee was not excused from the burden of service, but if the gift was in liberam, puram et perpetuam elemosynam, then he was, and the donor and his heirs were bound to warrant the donee against the claims of the chief lord.

ESCAETA, escheat, the forfeiture of lands to the lord.

ESTOVERIA, generally used for allowances of wood made to tenants for the purpose of repairs.

EXCLUSAGIUM, a sluice for carrying off water; also the payment to the lord for such a benefit.

EXCOMMUNICATIO, minor, est per quam quis a sacramentorum participatione conscientia vel sententia arcetur: major est, quae non solum a sacramentorum virum etiam fidelium communione excludit et ab omni actu legitimo separat et dividit.

FALLUM, a quantity of land, apparently less than a rood. Still used in Lancashire as "a fall" of land.

FEN

FENCE MONTH, see ante, tit. Defensum.

FERLINGATA TERRÆ. Decem acre faciunt ferlingatam ; 4 ferl. faciunt virgatam ; et 4 virgata faciunt hidam terræ.

FERRA EQUI, horse-shoes.

FILUM AQUÆ, the mid stream.

FIRMA, Saxon feormian, to feed or relieve, a farm.

FIRMARE, to fix, or fasten ; firmatio stagni, the fixing a mill-dam.

FIRMARIUS, a farmer.

FIDE JUSSOR, a bondsman.

FOCALES, a right of taking wood for firing.

FORESTA. "A forest is a certaine territorie of woody grounds and fruitfull pastures priuledged for wild beast and foules of forest, chace, and warren to rest and abide in in the safe protection of the king for his princely delight and pleasure. Which territorie of ground is meered and bounded with unremouable meeres, markes and boundaries, either knownen by matter of record or else by prescription, and also replenished with wilde beasts of venerie or chase and with great couerts of vert for the succour of the said wild beasts to have their abode in." It has also particular laws and officers. — Manwood.

FORINSECUM SERVITIUM, service due from the manor to a superior lord, or the king, as opposed (foris) to intrinsecum servitium, the ordinary service of the tenants to the lord.

GARBA, a sheaf of corn.

GENERALE, the single commons or provision in monasteries, distinguished from pitantia, ante, p. 218.

GISTA AQUÆ, the stream of water to a mill.

HAYA, a hedge, thence a separate enclosure, either a forest or park.

HAYBOTE, a right to take wood to repair hayas or hedges.

HEIRA, an aerly.

HERBAGIUM, liberty to pasture cattle in the forest or on another's land.

HESIA, an easement.

HOMAGIUM, the service made by tenants to the lord. It was incident to a freehold in fee simple or fee tail either jure suo or jure alterius. The tenant professed that he became homo domini sui. Vide p. 1010, note, for the form of homage.

HORREUM, a barn or granary.

HOUSBOTE, a right to take wood for the repairs of a house ; but in the king's forest it could only be taken by delivery of the foresters.

IMPETRATIO, obtaining anything by request and prayer.

IMPLACITO, to sue at law.

IND

INDECTIO, the giving a person possession or living of his church and temporalities, rendering him complete incumbent.

INQUISITIONES POST MORTEM, were taken by writ directed to the escheators of each county or district to summon a jury who were to inquire what lands any person died seised of, and by what rents or services the same were held, and who was the next heir, and of what age the heir was, that the king might be informed of his rights of escheat or wardship. They also state the quantity, and quality, and value of the lands of which each tenant died seised; and they are the best evidence of the descent of families and property.

INSTACRUM, the whole stock of a farm.

INSTITUTIO, a process by the bishop on presentation of a clerk to a living, whereby the cure of souls is granted and he is complete parson as to the spiritualities, though not entitled ad beneficium till induction.

INTERDICTUM, see ante, p. 180.

JUMPNA. By this the soile where rushes doe grow, doth passe."

JUNCARIA, syn. with jumpna.

LACTAGIUM, the milkage of cows.

LAGENA, a measure of capacity, thus described in the assise of David, king of Scotland, of weights and measures. Lagena debet continere

12 libras aquae videlicet 4 libr. de aqua marina, et 4 libr. de lacu vel stagno, et 4 libr. de aqua currente et clara. Lagena debet esse in profunditate 6 pollices cum dimidio pollicis; in latitudine inferiore debet esse 8 pollicum cum dimidio pollicis et cum spissitudine ligni utriusq. partis; et in rotunditate partis superioris debet esse 27 pollicum, et in rotunditate inferiori debet esse 23 pollicum.—Ducange.

LAICUM PEODEM, lands held of a lay lord, as distinguished from those held of a church, &c.

LANDA, an open field; Angl., laund.

LASTAGIUM, (Sax. Hlastan, i.e. onus,) a custom paid for wares sold by the last; also a custom exacted in some fairs and markets on exporting the articles purchased.

LETICA, a mile, p. 213 ante.

MANERIUM, an ancient lordship or manor, to which a court baron was incident.

MARA, a mere.

MARISCUS, a marsh, fenny ground.

MARITAGIUM LIBERUM, dicitur ubi donator vult quod terra sic data quieta sit ab omni seculari servitio.—Bracton. And the words of themselves created an estate in tail special free from all service till the fourth degree was past. But to render it effectual the woman or man should be of the blood of the donor.

MARLERIUM sive MARLETUM, a marl pit.

MENSIS VETITUS, ante, voce Fence Month.

MERRIUM, timbers for the roof.

MISIS, expenses.

MOLENDINUM AQUATICUM, a water mill.

MOLENDINUM FULLONATICUM, a fuller's mill.

MOL

MOLENDINUM VENTRITICUM, a wind-mill.

MULTA, a fine.

MULTURA the toll paid for grinding at a mill.

NAMIUM, distraining another's goods.

NATIVUS, a villein, ex nativitate.

NOUMENTUM, a nuisance.

OBLATIO, the dues for Christian offices.

OBLIGATIO, a bond with a penalty to perform a condition.

OBVENTIO, an offering or tithe.

OFFICIALIS, strictly a person substituted by the archdeacon for the performance of his office, but generally the minister or attendant on a magistrate.

OFFICIUM, a function whereby a man hath some employment in the affairs of another.

ONUS EPISCOPALE, customary payments from the clergy to the bishop.

PAAGIUM OR PASSAGIUM, a customary duty for being conveyed over sea.

PACARE, to pay.

PANIS CONVENTUALIS, pure white bread, as distinguished from the bread for ordinary guests.

PANNAGIUM, the food which swine fed upon in the woods; also the payment to the agistors for such food. In the king's forests the time of taking pawnage began at

PRO

Holyrood day, viz. fifteen days before the feast of St. Michael, and ended forty days after the feast of St. Michael; but in other woods the time was not fixed.

PARCUS, ground enclosed and priviledged by the king's grant or by prescription assuming one, for beasts of venery tam sylvestres quam campestres. It differs from a chase or warren in that it must be enclosed.

PASCUAGIUM, the grazing of cattle; also payments for the same.

PASCUUM, see Pastura.

PASTURA. Between pastura et pascuum the legal difference is that pasture in one signification containeth the ground itselfe called pasture and by that name is to be demanded. Pascuum, feeding, is wheresoever cattell are fed, of what nature soever the ground is.—Co. Litt.

PATROCINIUM, the patronage of an advowson.

PERCA, OR PERTICATA, a perch.

PESSONA, same as Pannagium, quod vide.

PUR

bishop or archdeacon on their visitations. It was a commutation for food required to be found for the visitor—ad procurandum cibum.

PURPRESTURA, purpresture. “A purpresture of a forest is most properly when a man doth make any manner of encroachment upon the forest, be it in building, enclosure, or by using of any libertie or privilege without lawful authority so to do. — Manwood. But it happened when any unlawful encroachment was made upon the king's freehold or the king's highway.

PUTURA, a custom claimed by keepers in forests, and sometimes by bailiffs in hundreds, to take man's meat and horse meat of the tenants and inhabitants within their perambulations. Vide p. 484.

QUARRERA, a quarry of stone.

QUARERIUM, a measure of corn, eight bushels.

QUIETANTIA, an acquittance.

QUIETUM CLAMARE, to release, or quitclaim.

REDDERE, to yield or return.

REDITUS, rents.

REGARDUM FORESTÆ. “All such woods and lands as are parcel of forest, the same is within the regard. And all such lands as are within the bounds of the forest and not any part of the forest, the same is out of the regard.” — Manwood.

RELAXARE, to extinguish or discharge a right; so remittere.

RELEVUM, or RELEVAMEN, relief, a payment by a freehold tenant on his taking possession of the inheritance.

SOC

RETENEMENTUM, detaining or keeping back.

RIMARE, to examine diligently.

RODA, an assart, or clearing. Rode-land is used in this sense in modern German, in which language the verb roden means to clear. The combination of the syllable “rod,” “rode,” or “royd,” with some other term, or with the name of an original settler, has no doubt given to particular localities such designations as Huntroyd, Ormerod, &c.

RUNCINUS, a pony, or saddlehorse of inferior size.

SAKERBORH, ante, p. 12.

SCUTAGIUM, a sum paid on commutation for knight's service.

SECTA CURIE, suit and service done by the tenants at the lord's court.

SEISINA, possession; thus prima seisia, first possession.

SELIO TERRÆ, an uncertain quantity of land; but from the instances at p. 1127, ante, it would appear that five selions made an acre.

SENACIUM, money paid for synodals.

SEPTUM, any place inclosed or paled in.

SEQUELA, the family of a nativus, or the young of any animal.

SERVITIUM FORINSECUM, vide ante, voce Forinsecum. It was foris vel extra servitium quod sit domino capitali. Scutage is a service of this nature.

SOCAGIUM, a tenure by which tenants held their lands to plough their lord's lands and do other inferior services, villanum socagium. These were in some cases commuted, and then were called liberum socagium.

SOP

- SOPITUS, set at rest.
STAGNUM, a pool of standing water.
STALLAGIUM, the liberty or right of pitching or erecting stalls in fairs or markets, or the money paid for the same.

TERRA FRUSCA, fresh land, or that hath not been lately tilled.
TERRA NOVA, land newly assarted.
TERRA EXCULTABILIS, land which may be ploughed.
THELONIUM, toll.
THENCI, (Sax. Thenian, ministrare,)

WAR

- the title given to the lords of land prior to the Conquest.
TOFTUM, an enclosure, generally the site of a homestead.
TORALE, edificium in quo frumenta et grana torrentur et exsiccantur, the malt kiln.
TUITIO, a defending.
TURBARIA, the right of cutting turves in another's ground.

VADIUM, a pledge.
VASTUM, a moor.
VENTRITICUM MOLENDINUM, a wind mill.
VESTURA, a crop of grass or corn.
VILLA, sometimes taken for a manor, answers to the modern term township. Villa est ex pluribus mansionibus vicinata et collocata ex pluribus vicinis. — 1 Inst.

WARENÆ AVES, the pheasant and partridge.
WARENÆ BESTIÆ, the hare and conie.
